MISS MARGUE RITE STOLTZ,
Who Will Graduate in the Professional Course From Mrs. Thurston's School on May 30.

SOCIETY

CONTINUED cool weather seems to have put a quietus on plans for the summer at the watering places. The renting of seaside cottages and arrangements for various camping parties in the mountains with the thermometer below normal is far from alluring just now, though there is every indication that Virginia people will throng the White Sulphur and Warm Springs later in the season.

This has been perhaps the gayest week in the hitherto most sober and uninteresting of spring seasons in Richmond. The past days have been gay with uniforms and gold lace, innumerable attractive entertainments centering about two of the most brilliant functions given in Richmond for some time.

With the drums of the militia scarcely passed from town, there is the big event in hunting circles all over the State, which began yesterday at the Virginia State Fair Grounds, the Virginia Racing and Horse Show Association, and society most cheerfully changes from the scarlet to the "pink coat." These horse shows are the features of the entire summer in Virginia, meeting as they do at the various attractive little towns of the State, and are the occasion of entertaining at the big country places and watering places.

Among the boxholders are: Captain John Landstreet, George W. Stevens, Leigh R. Page, I. M. Vaughan, Kirkwood Mitchell, E. B. Sydnor, John H. Lyons, James W. Graves, Thomas M. Rutherford, Palmer Leigh, T. Francis Green.

The presiding judge will be Frank J. Bryan, of the National Steeplechase Hunt Association, of New York. Other judges are W. W. Sanford, of Orange, Va.; J. K. Maddux, of Warrenton; Westmoreland Davis, of Morven Park, Leesburg.

Miss Anne Keith Royall, of this city; Miss Garth, of Charlottesville, and Miss Swartz, of Leesburg, will ride, and Miss Gwendolyn Rutherford has entered her horse in the ladies' class.

Among the out-of-town guests here for the meet are Eugene Benner, of Warrenton, registered at the Richmond; J. K. Maddux, of Warrenton; W. W. Sanford, of Orange, and Mr. Bryan, of New York, guests at the Westmoreland Club; Mr. and Mrs. Westmoreland Davis, of Morven Park, Leesburg; Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Osborne, of Orange, guests at the Richmond Hotel; Miss Roberta Garth, of Charlottesville; Miss Swartz, of Leesburg.

Attractive Luncheon.
Bowls of white flowers decorated the apartments of Mrs. M. V. Turner, at the Raleigh, on Wednesday, when the entertained a few friends at a very attractive little luncheon. In the dining room a long oval of white peonies ornamented the center of the table, and some of the same flowers were used to decorate the mantel. The table was covered with a pale green linen cloth, imported from the East and heavily embroidered. After lunch was served bridge was played. Mrs. Turner's guests included Mrs. Robert Pegram, Mrs. Adolphus Blair, Mrs. Edmund L. Benson and Mrs. Arthur Ripley.

Miss Alvey to Wed.
Mr. and Mrs. Edward Alvey, of 512 West Grace Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Lucile Savage, to Francis Edward Carter, the wedding to take place in June.

Miss Alvey is widely related throughout Virginia, and has been much admired in society here since her debut a few years ago. Mr. Carter is a son of the late R. Curtis Carter and Mrs. Carter, of this city, and is a graduate of the University of Virginia. For some years past he has made his home at the Episcopal High School, Alexandria, where he is a member of the faculty of that institution. Mr. Carter is desirous of visiting the famous Carter of Virginia, and is prominently related in the South.

months on the Continent, not returning to Virginia until some time in October. On their return they will sail from Naples.

Entertaining at the Hot Springs.
Mr. and Mrs. William J. Rucker, the latter formerly Miss Sallie Stuart Woods, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Micajah Woods, of Charlottesville, who are spending their honeymoon here, have been entertained extensively since their arrival. They were luncheon hosts at an old-fashioned Virginia supper at the Healing Springs last week for a large party. Mr. Rucker is the son of Mrs. James Dun, of Chicago.

For Mr. and Mrs. Hablilton.
Mr. and Mrs. James Alston Cabell entertained at cards on Wednesday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. William Merritt Hablilton and Mr. and Mrs. William Armistead Townes. Besides the honorees, the guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Egbert Leigh, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jennings C. Wine, Colonel and Mrs. W. W. Sale, Mr. and Mrs. Cunningham Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Sands, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cabell, Mrs. Kitty Scott McGilvray, Miss Townes, Miss Elizabeth Selden, John Rutherford and Thomas L. Moore.

Reception Last Thursday.
Mrs. Charles K. Bowers, of 115 East Franklin Street, entertained at a very handsome reception, followed by a dance, from 9 to 11 o'clock last Thursday evening. The rooms were beautifully decorated in palms and peonies, the mantels being banked with Marguerites. An orchestra played during the evening.

Mrs. Bowers received her guests wearing a handsome gown of black crepe de chine, trimmed in jet, and carried a bouquet of white flowers. Receiving with Mrs. Bowers were: Mrs. C. P. Burruss, in black satin; Miss Mary Glass, in blue crepe with a nosegay of sweetpeas, and Miss Steele, in pink messaline and bouquet of sweetpeas.

Attractive Box Party.
Mrs. A. L. McClellan entertained a party of friends last week at a box party at the Academy of Music. After the performance a beautifully appointed supper was served at the Jefferson Hotel. Covers were laid for six and the table was decorated in pink and white peonies with a single rose to mark the place of each guest.

Mrs. Luce's Card Party.
A beautiful card party was given Thursday evening by Mr. and Mrs. John Gilbert Luce in their home, 902 Park Avenue. The house was most elaborately and attractively decorated. American Beauty roses in tall vases were used in the hall, baskets of pink and white flowers in the library and pink peonies and pink roses in the drawing room. A rustic basket of pink roses made a charming centerpiece for the dining room table.

Mrs. Luce received in a gown of white voile, hand-embroidered in pink and white flowers, and carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley.

Returned From the South.
Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Z. Nelson, who have been spending some time in Mobile, Ala., on their wedding trip, returned to Richmond last week, remaining here only a few days. They left on Tuesday for Orange, Va., where they expect to make their home in the future.

Mrs. Munce's Luncheon.
In honor of Mrs. Bradley Davidson, of Washington, D. C., Mrs. John S. Munce was hostess of a charming luncheon last Tuesday. Decorations were in pink and white flowers and the guests included Miss Mary Johnston, Mrs. Charles G. Basher, Mrs. William G. Starnard, Miss Annie Steger Winston.

The same afternoon Mrs. Thomas Cary Johnson entertained at tea for Mrs. Davidson.
